

TESTIMONIALS

I just went through these words, to express my gratitude towards you for the beauty of your heart and that of your work. I was not aware that one could carry in life and for such a long time all the luggage that tags along because of unresolved and forgotten issues. I don't really know how it works, but I do know that your healing work and the love that you put into what you do, has not only helped me to let go of that unnecessary luggage, but at the same time has once and for all healed and solved the source of my wounds. After our session, I can say that my life became lighter. I can only think about the beauty and potential that we have as human beings and all the things that we have to share. In other words, there's so much to learn about our own nature and it is my feeling that I have learned a lot about it from and after our meeting.

A true healer in the best sense of the word. Hazel works WITH you in alignment with the higher spirits to get to the roots of your potential. Working together on what is most essential on the soul level, I have walked away transformed on a deep, subtle level. Combining various elements of vibrational medicine and shamanism, Hazel has synthesized a very unique and powerful approach to her work of service and compassion. I am grateful to see such dedicated, advanced commitment to the higher good and I look forward to seeing her expand this beautiful work in the future. With many thanks...

I experience Hazel's sound/color work as a little slice of heaven that connects me to who I truly am. I cannot think of another time when I have felt more held or more completely at home in the wholeness of my being. These are healings of such deep pleasure and well-being.

I began my work with Hazel about a year ago. In that year I had just four amazingly powerful and distinctly different sessions. During each session Hazel's skills intuitively guided me to deeper understanding of my life choices, my relationships, and myself. Hazel's mastery of many different healing disciplines provided just what was needed to further the deepening of my connection to my soul and thereby my ability to discover how I belong and am part of the collective. I touched my soul and became a part of this world and from my belonging came my understanding that all knowledge is shared, expressed and enjoyed through service. I am grateful that Hazel has helped bring "light" to my life and helped me see with clarity and purpose.

This healing work has shifted my consciousness, both as a practitioner and a person. I have found myself "opened" in ways that deft description, but strike at the core of my very essence. Hazel embodies the rare healing attributes of love and compassion, which are the foundations of her work and allow for great trust to begin. It has been a profound journey, one I am grateful for, and will continue to learn from for years to come..."
